Editor of the Pine Cone:

A few weeks ago it was announced in the Pine Cone that there would be a gift of free pine trees for planting on our Carmel streets.

A great many of our permanent residents are admirers of the California forests of pines and noble redwoods, and we are fortunate in having several groves of them near by.

However, there are comparatively very few seaside towns which can offer their dwellers unrestricted views of the sea.

Carmel is one of these privileged settlements.

Let us think carefully before we do anything which shall curtail the views of our fellow-townsmen who live back from the shore.

They may be, possibly for the first time, becoming able to catch a glimpse of our sunsets through the screen of trees which still add beauty to our streets.

From an ardent tree-lover who came to Carmel twenty-two years ago, and was attracted here by the lovely views of the Pacific.

Cordially yours,
Sophie H. Marshall.

The city council has become aware of this problem, not only of the consequences that might ensue from indiscriminate planting of new trees without regard to the view that might be destroyed, but also of the dissatisfaction of property owners whose view has been destroyed by cypress trees that were planted too thickly some years ago and were allowed to grow without trimming or pruning until they have become an unattractive hedge, shutting out the sun and light as well as the view.

The council has concluded that there are areas where tree thinning is as necessary for the beautification of the town as tree planting. They feel that a survey of the entire tree situation is needed and have turned the job over to the planning commission. Hurd Comstock has been named chairman of the tree committee and so far has chosen for his assistants—Clara N. Kellogg, also a planning commission member, and Dr. Ferdinand W. Haasis, who has been written up in this issue in the neighboring columns.

In asking for this survey, the council has not delegated any of its autocratic power over city owned trees, either to the planning commission or the tree committee.

The council's position was clarified by the mayor's statement at the meeting Wednesday night. "The tree situation is becoming a serious problem. Trees grow so fast, particularly cypress, and the city has planted cypress in the past, that they cut off beautiful views of the ocean. It can sometimes be more attractive to see two trees and a view than six trees and no view. The tree committee will consider the rights of the people who came earlier to Carmel."

Dr. Ferdinand W. Haasis, Botanist And Artist, Will Help Formulate Policy In View vs. Tree Controversy

In addition to his fellow planning commission member, Miss Clara N. Kellogg, Hurd Comstock has chosen Dr. Ferdinand W. Haasis for his committee to advise the city council what policy to follow in regard to citizens' requests to top or remove trees that conflict with the ocean view.

To help decide what is likely to develop into a battle over the relative charm of forest vs. marine beauty, the selection of Dr. Haasis is fortunate from both a technical and an aesthetic standpoint. Dr. Haasis is a botanist by profession, with years of experience as a forester, and he follows watercolor painting and landscape photography as an avocation.

The order of vocation and avocation might easily have been reversed, for until Dr. Haasis entered college he was not sure whether his work would be art or science. Art had always been part of his life. His earliest memories of boyhood in New England concerned the sketches his mother drew to teach her children and to answer their questions, since art was her natural form of expression. Dr. Haasis can't remember when he started to paint and draw, but the preciseness and exactitude of a civil engineering father may have had their influence, also. At any rate, science won the decision.

Dr. Haasis graduated from Rutgers in 1911, attended Yale Forestry School and subsequently won his doctorate in plant physiology from Johns Hopkins in 1928. In the interim, he had several U. S. Forestry service assignments and was on the staff of a coal company in Kentucky to advise on raising forest crop of hardwoods. He was also on the forestry research staff at Flagstaff, Arizona, and at one time taught forestry at the University of Idaho.

In 1930 he came to Carmel to conduct research in plant physiology with Dr. D. T. MacDougal at the Carnegie Institute experimental station. From 1942 to 1946 he was in charge of the chemical laboratory for the guayule project near Salinas. Last summer he was again with the U. S. Forestry Department, in the Sierra Nevada, on a white pine blister rust control project that involved identifying for the cutting crews infected ribes bushes (wild currant) which were cut out and destroyed by the thousands because they serve as hosts to the fungus that infects the great timber trees. In spite of the strenuousness of the work, after returning to Carmel to get Mrs. Haasis, he went back to the forests and mountains for his vacation to "rough it" and pursue the avocation that holds second place to his watercolor painting, photography. His moonlight mountain scenes will accompany an article on moonlight picture taking which he is preparing for a photographic magazine. The latter work was interrupted last month, when this highly versatile botanist-artist was called on in an emergency at the high school. The mathematics teacher was ill and he conducted her classes for several weeks.

THE CANDIDATES

Here are the second of a series of thumb-nail biographies of the candidates for city council. More next week.

JACK LAUGHLIN

Jack Marsh Laughlin was born in Sacramento in 1917 and earned his law degree at Stanford University with the class of '42. For over four years he served on General MacArthur's staff in the Southwest Pacific and is now a Reserve Major while practicing law. He is a bachelor who came to Carmel one year ago and is making his home on Mission Street near Fourth. He is a member of the executive committee of the American Legion, of the Elks, of the Commonwealth Club, the University Club of Pasadena, and of the American Bar Association as well as of state and county bar associations. He is secretary of the Stanford Club. He filed application for candidacy March 2 and is sponsored by Bernard F. Lalolo, Frances W. Lalolo, Kalmen Y. Saper, James B. Campbell, Marjorie B. Campbell, Ashley E. Stetson, Albert L. Van Houtte, Mrs. Fae H. Strickland, Chester G. Strickland and Cecil Haskell.

GENE RICKETTS

Gene A. Ricketts was born in Fresno County in 1909 and came to Carmel 19 years ago. He lives on Lincoln near 5th with his wife and two children. For ten years he operated the MacDonald Dairy and for the past year has been in the sporting goods business. He has always been actively interested in youth activities and in sports, is a director of the Boys' Club, member of the Abalone League and of the Carmel Lions Club. For ten years he has been a member of the Fire Department. He states that it is his desire to protect Carmel from becoming commercialized as other beach resorts have done. He filed his candidacy February 27 and is sponsored by Frank I. Putnam, Mark J. Raggatt, Fred Decker, Michael J. Balazs, Russell H. Jones, Lawrence L. Benson, Mary Louise Miller, Carol W. Yerkes, Nat R. Freeman and Fred Leidig.

FRANCIS WHITAKER

Francis Whitaker was born in Woburn, Massachusetts, in 1906 and has been living in Carmel for twenty years, owing his home on Vista Street, where he lives with his wife and two children. He spent two years in Europe studying ornamental iron design and has owned the Forge in the Forest since 1933. During the war he was a government employee teaching welding. His reason for wishing to be councilman is that he thinks there should be at least one member of the council interested in conservation work and in creative craftsman work. He is president of the Point Lobos League, member of the Sierra

Godwin Aroused Over Committee Proposal For School District Unification

"I can't see that at all," Mayor Fred Godwin stated yesterday when asked if he favored the unification of the Monterey Peninsula Schools (Carmel, Pacific Grove, Monterey, and outlying districts) into one district, under one administration.

The matter came up for discussion at the meeting in Monterey of the sub-committee studying the reorganization of school district boundaries. The subcommittee activities are part of a state-wide movement for school district unification.

Carmel Tradition Threatened For Tourist Benefit

Councilman Donald Craig or a special police officer, or both will keep count Sunday at the corner of Ocean Avenue and Carpenter street to see how many tourists fail to make the turn into town now that there is a new elbow turn sign a block away from the intersection.

The survey represents a last ditch fight by the people who would like to see Carmel carry out the Perry Newberry tradition of discouraging commercialism. Not content with frowning on directional signs to attract tourists to the community, Newberry suggested that a toll gate be put up as an actual discouragement, and Carmel flourished under such guidance.

The planning commission, on the suggestion of the business association, recommended to the city council Wednesday night that a sign saying "To Carmel" be placed at the turn. A member of the audience pointed out that the convenience of a few tourists was not worth the price the town would pay in lost face.

Councilman Craig, holding out against the sign, was so staunch in his convictions that he offered to give up his Sunday to make a traffic count, in the hope of finding that the elbow sign showing that

10 Candidates; Jackson's Man Has Wife Trouble

When filing closed yesterday noon, the election situation settled down and the town may draw a sigh of relief. There will be ten candidates—no more—for three seats on the city council. Candidates are: Charles Childers and Allen Knight, incumbents; Harry Glem, Malcolm D. Woods, Leslie Frank Boschart, Andrew W. Martin, Captain H. M. Gleason, Jack Laughlin, Gene Ricketts and Francis Whitaker.

Corum Jackson did not file the paper he took out last week for a mystery candidate. "His wife wouldn't let him run," said Mr. Jackson, adding that occasionally women are smarter than one would suspect.

City Clerk Peter Mawdsley and City Treasurer Harry Hilbert incumbents running for re-election have no opposition.

Filing for candidacy to the Monterey Peninsula airport board of directors closed yesterday noon, also. There are three seats to be filled, and five candidates. Charles S. Oimsted, Dr. Harry L. Brownell and Fred Godwin, incumbents; Tom Mathews, Jacks Peak; and John W. McBain, Monterey.

Monterey representatives favored the plan, while Carmel and Pacific Grove were unenthusiastic. Mrs. Martha Moller, member of the Carmel School Board, and Superintendent Stuart Mitchell stated that they will present their recommendations to the Carmel School Board at its meeting Tuesday, and there is every indication that these recommendations will be unfavorable to the unification plan. Though neither could speak at the present for publication, Mayor Fred Godwin felt no inhibitions on the subject.

"We need our own administration for our own schools. Carmel's problems are different from those of Monterey. Just one example is sufficient. Over 80 percent of our kids go to college; 34 percent is the state average. That alone makes our curricular problems different from the average which might well put emphasis on shop and trade training instead of college preparatory work.

"Financially, we would be the goats—as usual. We would have to pay more than our share to maintain schools over which we did not have sufficient control. When we pulled out of the Monterey High School system we saved 7 cents on the tax rate and we were able to have a school that can give our children the kind of training most suited to their needs."

The sub-committee meets again April 15. In addition to school board representatives, it is made up of E. M. Seifert, Carmel, chairman; Paul Zaehes, Monterey, Fred Workman, Pacific Grove, John B. Lemos and Mrs. Russell Scott, Salinas.

Joe's Taxi Moves To New Building On Junipero Sat.

After some 14 years at the old location, tomorrow Joe's Taxi is moving into its new two-story, fire-proof building opposite the Plaza, corner of Junipero and 6th. The new structure, of reinforced concrete and brick, was designed by Jon Konigshofer at a cost of $50,000. It includes a dispatching and information office, where, following an old Carmel custom, dogs, children, and baggage may be checked until bus time.

Both Greyhound and Bay Rapid Transit buses will leave the new location on regular schedule. An added attraction—to open within a week—will be a lunch room, owned and operated by Joe's Taxi, open 24 hours a day for the convenience of patrons. A hot plate, sandwiches, salads, and quick snacks will be available.

The second floor is already largely finished, and will be completed in the near future.

MONTEREY CAGERS DEFEAT PACIFIC GROVE TO WIN CARMEL TOURNAMENT

If the script had been written before the start of the tournament, a better finish couldn't have been provided than the ones put on by the teams in the consolation and winner's bracket of the Second Carmel Invitational Basketball Tournament. In the consolation finals, those traditional rivals from the San Joaquin League, Gustine and Patterson, squared off and put on a real thriller which wasn't decided until the last second of play. With the scoreboard reading, Gustine 47, Patterson 46, the Patterson captain elected to decline a free-throw and took the ball out of bounds to try for the 2 points and a win. Time ran out before the Indians could get a shot at the hoop and the Gustine boys walked off with a well-earned victory. This game was replete with thrills from the opening whistle until the very finish.

The finals in the championship bracket found Monterey and Pacific Grove battling it out in a Peninsula natural. With the Carmel gym loaded to capacity, these two teams put on a game which will long be remembered by Peninsula cage fans. Pacific Grove worked their way into the finals by downing King City, 49 to 27, and by edging Carmel, 27 to 26. The Monterey Toreadors defeated Gonzales, 46 to 34, and submerged Gilroy, 38 to 24.

From the outset of this final game, it was apparent that it would be a close-fought fracas. With never more than 4 points separating the teams at any time, the game evolved into a scoring match between Roberts and Narvaez of Monterey, and Kelly and Toole of Pacific Grove. At the end of the third quarter, PG trailed by 1 point but they soon forged ahead when Toole dropped through a 30 foot set shot. Narvaez countered Toole's basket with a tip-in and the Toreadors enjoyed a 1 point lead. Kelly came through with a hook shot to put the Breakers ahead by 1 and it looked like the PG lads might turn back the favorites. However, the Toreadors were up to the occasion and iced the encounter when Messinger hit for a field goal and Narvaez dunked in a free throw. Max Kelly, Pacific Grove center, was high scorer of the game with 14 points. Bob Toole, PG guard, picked up 9 markers for the Red and Gold. Dick Narvaez with 11 and Ron Roberts with 8 topped the Monterey point-makers. With the consolation game ending 47-46 and the final tilt decided by a 30-29 score, a capacity crowd left the Carmel gym satisfied that they had seen the best prep basketball ever presented on the Peninsula.

The Carmel Padres advanced into the semi-finals by taking the measure of Gustine, but they were eliminated by the Pacific Grove Breakers. This game set the precedent for the finals and was a torrid match from start to finish. Carmel forged ahead in the 4th quarter only to have the Breakers sink 3 free throws and eke out a 27-26 victory. DeLormier and Toole carried the scoring for Pacific Grove while Winslow and Hare supplied the offensive punch for the Padres. The brilliant passing and play-making of Tom Handley contributed to most of the Carmel scoring.

High scorer for the complete tournament was Bob Keeney, Gustine forward. Keeney tallied 37 points in three games to lead Roberts, Monterey forward, who connected for 29. Luft, brilliant Gilroy sophomore, threw in 28 markers to wind up in third place.

The tournament was highlighted by fine sportsmanship throughout. Fans, players, coaches, and officials are to be congratulated on the fine cooperative spirit shown during all the keenly contested games. The very good Pep Band from Gilroy High School entertained the fans during the Friday games and was hailed as the best outfit to ever appear at prep ball games. Small but peppy rooting sections from Gustine and Patterson drew the admiration of all the fans. The officiating was the best seen in this area during the current season. The four officials who handled the games were Haak and Helm from the CCAL Association, Monk Moyer from the Junior College Conference, and Cab Curtis from the Coast Conference.

PEP BAND AT TOURNAMENT

The Pep Band, which played Friday afternoon and Friday night during the 2nd Annual Carmel High School Invitational Basketball Tournament, was from Gilroy Union High School.

It was led by Quen Young, tenor sax. Other members were Eddie Mosso, trumpet; Tom Filice, tuba; James Fortino, drums; and Ralph Artacho, cymbals. Mr. Reuben Tuttle, Instrumental Music Instructor at Gilroy High School, is the faculty adviser and filled in very nicely on the trombone.

CARMEL BOYS' CLUB TOURNAMENT

The second basketball tournament in as many weeks comes to the Carmel gym as the Carmel Boys' Club sponsors its second Annual Boys' Club Invitational Tournament which starts this afternoon at 4:00 p.m. The opening game is to be between the Carmel Midgets and the Pacific Grove Rec Club small lads.

Following at 5:00 the Carmel B.C. lightweights encounter the Monterey lightweight team. At 7:00 the Soquel Midgets and the Monterey Smalls meet in a preliminary contest preceding the Soquel Varsity and Monterey Heavies game at 8:30.

Starting the heavily laden Saturday schedule, the Santa Cruz Boys' Club tangles with the Watsonville Y.M.C.A. in a game of midgets at 1:30. At 3:00 the 145 pound class from the above mentioned will meet. At 5:00 the Varsities of the Santa Cruz B.C. and Watsonville Y.M.C.A. will be on hand to entertain the crowds.

At 7:00 the Watsonville lights and the New Monterey B.C. meet to warm the hardwoods for the 8:30 final event of the first half mark which features a game between the Watsonville C.Y.O. and the Carmel B.C. Heavies.

The Tournament will be continued on March 12, 13. The Schedule for those games will appear in next week's edition.

SHAMROCKS TRIM GIANTS; TIGERS BEAT PILOTS

Favored by perfect softball weather, the 1948 Abalone League season got underway officially last Sunday at the Carmel High School field. Doc Staniford, Mister Abalone himself, was on hand to give the league official sanction and interpret the tricky rules for neophyte abalones. Doc made a hurried trip from New Orleans to be present for the opening.

Promptly at 1:30 players were assigned to the teams and the two Andys, Del Monte and Weimann, stationed themselves in the umpire spots and gave the word that firing could commence. Jay Huffman banded together his sterling crew of Shamrocks and took the field. It became apparent in the early innings of the first game that the Shamrocks are the team to beat in this season's Abalone League play. Sporting such good performers as Jay Huffman, Jim Harget, Janet Huffman, Mike Mosolf, Pat Grimshaw, Orville Rogers, Lew Sanders, Jim Southwell, Ronnie Huffman, and George Mosolf the green-topped outfit was too much for Jack Whitesides' loaded Giants. The Giants were manned by George Younkin, Don Leidig, Joe Nicholson, Cliff Cook, Dorothy Black, Jim Kelsey, Jack Whitesides, Alys Knight, Don Palmer, and Mike Balazs. The potent Shamrocks lashed out 18 hits to steal the offensive thunder from the Giants and walked off with a 10-9 victory. The Giants connected for 12 blows but they were well scattered.

In the second game Jack Giles' Tigers overwhelmed the Pilots of Allen Knight, 8 to 7. Jack employed the talents of Ursula Bartlett, Arnold Hiserman, Bob Bell, Laura Nicholson, Andy Wiemann, Kurt von Meier, Mark Hildebrand, and Orville Rogers to overcome the Pilots. Allen Knight fielded a fancy aggregation consisting of Dick Sumner, Charley Childers, (Continued on Page Seventeen)

Charles Berkey

Charles Leon Berkey, 49, died in a local hospital Tuesday, March 2, after having been under a physician's care for over a year. He was a native of Chicago and came to Carmel in 1922. Shortly afterward he helped to organize the Bank of Carmel, of which he has been cashier, manager, and vice president. At one time he was city treasurer of Carmel. He was a charter member of the Manzanita Club and later of the American Legion, the Masonic Lodge and the Elks, the Abalone League, and a life member of the Carmel Art Association. He was always actively interested in the cultural aspects of the community. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Helen Thompson Berkey, and by a brother, Gerald K. Berkey of Middleton, Ohio, who flew from Tokyo to be able to attend the funeral today.

Services are being held this afternoon at two o'clock in the Paul Funeral Chapel, Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating, and burial will take place in El Carmelo Cemetery in Pacific Grove.

Yesterday the Mayor addressed the following letter to Mrs. Berkey:

March 4, 1948.

Dear Mrs. Berkey:

At the meeting of the City Council held last night tribute was paid to the memory of Mr. Berkey, and by unanimous vote I was requested to convey to you our sincere regret at his passing and sympathy in your bereavement. By his death Carmel has lost one of its leading citizens.

Through all the years Charlie was loved in the community by all who knew him. By his counsel he helped many citizens in many ways and his courteous attitude to all inspired their deep regard. He has left behind a host of friends who will always cherish his memory and friendship.

With them we would like to show our respect and, acting upon the request from the Carmel Business Association, conveyed to us in a letter presented last night, we suggest that his friends in the business houses close during the hours of the funeral and that all those who can attend will do so.

For myself and every other member of the City Council and its officials, please accept our hope that you may be sustained in your sorrow by the knowledge that many sympathetic friends share it with you.

Sincerely,
Frederick M. Godwin,
Mayor.

Stanford Press Brings Out Album Of Mother Lode

The Mother Lode Album by Othello Weston, recently published by the Stanford University Press as part of their California series, for the Centennial year 1948, contains a rather exhaustive collection of photographs of historic houses, buildings, bridges and even churches from Mariposa to Downville along the present-day route of State Highway 49.

Choosing two hundred evidences of the decayed glory of the boomtown days which started California's fabulous history, Miss Weston has brought into focus the architectural artistry, historical interest and romance of the mining region. She has accompanied the photographs with descriptive and anecdotal captions, and there is besides an end-paper design showing the map of the gold heart of the state.

This is a collector's edition, but also it will stir all readers with a reminder that the 1848 rush to the Mother Lode Country, by fortune hunters from every corner of the earth, changed the direction which civilization had taken.

NO SEPARATE P.T.A. FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Tentative plans for a High School P.T.A. were given up when it was found through a letter survey that there was not sufficient interest among the parents to warrant a separate organization. Instead, three regular meetings of the P.T.A. will be held at the high school, devoted to high school topics.

Committee conducting the survey were: Mrs. Thomas Elston, Mrs. Marjory Lloyd, Mrs. Catherine Fratessa, Mrs. Charlotte Clark and Mrs. Julian von Meier.

SUNSET SCHOOL NOTES

Mrs. Ann Uzzel, Fifth Grade

On Tuesday, February 24, Mrs. Ann Uzzel announced that at 3 o'clock there would be a big surprise for everyone! My it was a long time until three o'clock! Then just before that time Eugene Tagliana's mother arrived with a birthday cake, decorated with baseballs, bats, and ten big candles. There was enough ice cream for everyone, too.

We sang happy birthday to Eugene, and then gathered around the table to see him blow out his candles and cut the cake. Then the cake and ice cream were passed.

Baseball is the new sport at Sunset. Four teams have been organized from fourth through seventh. Forty-eight boys signed up to play on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3:45. Mr. James Blee and Mr. Orville Rogers are the umpires. The names of the teams and their captains are: Bulldogs, Leslie Doolittle; Mufflers, Nathan Stiles; Rubes, Mike Elliott; Fogies, Mike Rickett. The games will start March 2, and end May 11.

—Gene Mullnix.

In one of the windows at Stanford's, there is a Junior Red Cross display. There is a box like the ones we sent overseas at Christmas. From the Kindergarten through the seventh grade the children filled 100 of these boxes. These are some of the things put in these boxes: sewing materials, mittens, crayons, tooth brush and powder, comb, doll, cloth toy, soap and wash cloth, pencil and pads.

—Carole Goodrich.

Sunset has the largest enrollment in its history. Right now there are almost 400 children. In the last two weeks, 15 new children have come. They are: Alice Williams, who transferred from Bay School, and is now in Mrs. Anna Kohner's second grade. Lacy Williams is in the second grade, too. Carolyn Burde who is in Mrs. Marcia DeVoe's Kindergarten, came from Pasadena. Lynn McMahon from Oakland is in Mrs. Myra Mylar's fifth grade. Franklin Snow came here January 5th and went away January 27th. He was from Arlington, Virginia and his father worked at the Navy School. Howard and Roger Wright were here before and then were transferred to Seaside and now they are here again. James Howe is in Mrs. Sylvia Jordan's seventh grade and was transferred from Bay School. Ann and Ned Luker are from Washington. Ann is in Mrs. Ann Uzzel's fifth grade, and Ned is in Mrs. Anna Kohner's second grade. Beverly Bolton was at Sunset before and then went to the Walter Colton School. She is at Sunset again and in Mrs. Sylvia Jordan's seventh grade. Janise Williams is in Mr. James Blee's seventh grade, coming here from Rhode Island. Martie and Pepper Lane came from Big Sur. Pepper is in Mrs. Anna Kohner's second grade, and Martie is in Mrs. Edna Lockwood's third grade. Vivian Davis came from Porterville and is in Miss Winnifred Regier's first grade.

The kite parade will start at 1:15 p.m. from Sunset center field and go to Carmel High. The parade will pass in front of the house of the former Rev. Willis G. White at 9th and El Camino. This is done in memory of his starting the kite festival.

Get your kites ready now and let's make this year's kite festival one which everyone will remember. The types of kites that are being made are two stick kites, three stick kites, square kites, and figures such as birds, sun, elephants, and a bumble bee (with no stinger). Over one hundred kites have been started.

It is hoped that some adults will enter the festival for there will be special prizes for them. They are a wooden bowl and two card trays. We hope many will enter.

The prizes for the children are: two cameras with film, two wonderful knives, one carpenter and tool books, one chisel, five screw drivers, six hand saws, two hammers, one ax, one pair of pliers, one bottle of magic bubbles, one box of Venus colored pencils, one adjustable pliers, and last of all a ball of red string! May the best kite win.

—Diane Tootelian.

Three new drinking fountains have recently been completed at Sunset. One is on the boys' playfield, one is on the girls' playfield, and one is on the primary playfield. There are four separate fountains in each unit, and this is a great improvement, especially on warm days. The children are very happy with the new equipment.

—Connie Nielsen.

Miss Larson, the biology teacher at the Carmel High School, showed Girl Scout Troop No. 27 some slides about the various kinds of birds in California.

The girls are working on their second class nature badges and next week will go on a bird walk with Miss Morrow and Mr. Dawson.

—Priscilla Clark & Sondra Sowell.

I got my puppy last Friday in Salinas. He is eight weeks old and is a collie thoroughbred. All of his paws are white and he has a collar around his neck. He is brown with a little black on the rest of him.

The first two nights we had him he cried nearly all night. Now he has learned that if he jumps up and scratches on the front door, we will come out to see him. His name is Tippy.

—Karen Johnson.

We had a clothing drive which lasted two weeks. We collected enough to fill thirty-two large bags. By the end of this week, we hope to fill four more. The clothing is being sent to Save the Children Federation in San Francisco. From there it goes to needy children all over the world.

—Georgiana Rawlings.

Mrs. Virginia Nye's Third Grade

We had a Valentine party at school. First we had an ice cream bar that was Miss Nye's Valentine to us. Some of the boys and girls brought cookies and candy. A boy brought some beautiful cup cakes with some white and red frosting. Most of the cookies had red frosting. They were very nice. Thirteen Valentines were given to me.

Carmel Tradition Threatened For Tourist Benefit

Other business of the meeting: A letter from Arthur Hull, Sunset School Principal, requesting that the council give consideration to making a one-way street going north for one block in front of the post office, with the view of relieving the traffic problem in that area.

The council referred the matter to the Police Commissioner, the Police Chief and the traffic committee of the Business Association.

A letter from Ernest Calley announced the Annual Kite Festival to be held at the high school on March 13 and asked that two city trucks be available to transport the children from Sunset to the high school, and requested the usual police escort for the parade leaving Sunset at 1:15 p.m.

A number of letters were read from the property owners on Tenth and Eleventh Streets, some favoring street improvement, others opposing. The mayor told those in attendance that he would call a special meeting to discuss the matter with them.

In February there were two great birthdays. These were for A. Lincoln and G. Washington. They are two of the greatest presidents of the United States. When G. Washington was young he lived on a farm in Virginia. He wanted to be a sailor before he became president. A. Lincoln lived in a log cabin and worked up to live in the White House like G. Washington.

—Suzanne Bestor.

My little dog is black and white. He barks and barks with all his might. He barks at cars, he barks at a cat. He barks at mice, he barks at a rat. He barks at squirrels up in the tree. But he never barks at me!

—Donna Patnude.

One day when I came home from school I said to my mother that all my dresses were too short. I asked her please to let the hem down in my dresses but she wanted to see how short they were on me. She tried some dresses and my bathing suit on me and they were very short. She went to town to get some new clothes for me. She bought a plaid bathing suit. It was very cute. She also bought some pretty dresses and a beach robe with a cape. I think they are all very pretty.

—Penny Bunn.

Wednesday I went to a birthday party. First we had a peanut hunt and my friend Anne won. She got a spark gun for a prize. Then we played pin the tail on the donkey. We had our party which was more of a supper party. We had creamed chicken, peas, and rolls. We had ice cream and cake and then went home.

—Carey E. Trimble.

My sister and I like to sing, draw, and dance. Mother said we are very good. But best of all, I like to help my Daddy with income tax, so I call myself an secretary.

—Dorothy Ann Holm.

Catherine Seideneck's One Man Show Represents Artist's Poetic Growth

The one-man show at the Gallery this week gives us an opportunity to see the work of Catherine Seideneck and to follow its development through the years.

Several of the pictures were painted in Italy some years ago. These stand against her later work in traditional though never conventional technique, giving a firm background to the whole. It is as though a life had gathered up the beauty of the past and moved with it into the present, leaving the grey inhibitions behind and emerging from the shadows into the scintillating light.

Catherine Seideneck in her early work was a painter of perception and substance, but in her later work she is a poet and a lyricist. Her Italian pictures give some hint of this achievement — especially the lovely hillside one, with the blossoming almond trees. There is a spontaneity in this picture which suggests the freshness of a passing shower and a rainbow to be looked for somewhere. The large painting with the boats is full of green light and reflections. This luminous quality transcends the heavy oil and gives a subtle glow to the whole composition.

In her pastels this artist reveals her understanding of colour. This medium, which too often becomes chalky and blurred, attains a certain crispness in her work, and keeps the delicate sense of form which is one of her most charming characteristics. Colour is imposed upon, colour until the whole texture glows with variations and progressions.

In her later work Catherine Seideneck has achieved a very beautiful effect by using thin oils. These give something of the freshness and lucidity of water colours, and yet they allow greater brilliance of colour and texture. In some cases they are almost like enamels, flowing, solid and gem-like. The charm of Carmel Valley where the Seidenecks live, is vividly portrayed in these pictures. Here are the singing hill-lines, the showering clouds, the tall golden standards of the poplars and the ever varying burnished colours of the fields. They are jewel-bright and glowing. All the glints and gleamings of the opal shine in these landscapes — and moreover they seem to move and shimmer and live. They are not static. They are like the music of Debussy, fluid and full of motion, making no rigid statements yet giving a sense of the imperceptible beauty which is rather a spontaneous happening between the work of art and the beholder than a tangible quality of either of them.

Easy on the eyes — and ears

Standing still, it has the eager look of a pointer scenting game, so swift and flowing are its lines.

Sweeping by, it stands out unflinchingly from the highway crowd, unmistakably a Buick and unquestionably the year's trimmest fashion plate.

But have you traveled in one of these tidy new beauties?

Have you seen for yourself how smooth and silent is its flow of power, how hushed and quiet is its ride?

This comes from many things.

From Fireball power now Hi-Poised for throbless smoothness. From a Vibra-Shielded ride that is your ever-present protection against road-noise, body-drum and vibration build-up.

And it comes, in addition, from a brand-new development we call Sound-Sorber top lining.

It's a thick pad of feathery insulation much like that you use in your own home, and it goes into every closed model in our 1948 SUPER and ROADMASTER series.

This new lining cloaks your Buick in new and delightful silence akin to that of your own living room — silence that encourages normal-tone conversation, makes soft radio music clear and enjoyable throughout the whole car.

So you ride in quiet as well as beauty when you travel in this style star.

You find it a great-hearted lovely that is soft of voice and gentle of manner — a delight to the traveling ear, the guiding hand and the passing eye.

Don't just see it at your Buick dealer's — look into it with greatest care. The deeper you look the surer you'll be to see the wisdom of getting a firm order in now!

You shall have music —
wherever you ride

Front seat or back, you listen to your radio at soft and undistorted volume in this new Buick. You talk without shouting, know freedom from rumble and din. Always cars of quiet comfort, the Buick SUPER and ROADMASTER step out still further with Sound-Sorber top lining — a Buick exclusive.

Voice Of Turtle Opens Monday At Golden Bough

The much-discussed John Van Druten play, The Voice of the Turtle, will be given its first non-professional performance next Monday evening at Golden Bough Playhouse.

Director Edward Kuster, after painstaking tryouts of dozens of candidates, has chosen three experienced players to fill the three roles of the play: Ursula Halloran will play Sally, young Broadway

PLENTY OF BRICKS

A telephone call Tuesday morning confirmed for Mrs. Sara Farrar the news that she was first prize winner in the Why I Want A Caladobe Home contest sponsored by the Foster Kleiser advertising agency. For her prize winning letter, Mrs. Farrar will receive 5,500 caladobe bricks. What she will do with that many bricks she has not yet been able to decide. Ralph Wright's letter won second prize.

actress out of work, lessee of the said apartment. Miss Halloran is a recent graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, and is presently engaged in a nation-wide survey of local theatres, analogous to Kenneth MacGowan's work on the then crusading Little Theatre of a quarter of a century ago. Helen Lane will play Olive, a slightly older Broadway actress who has just finished a road tour and is expecting a weekend "date" from a nearby Army camp.

Miss Lane, a player of experience, has many friends in Carmel, where she was for several years secretary of the High School, much too busy to participate in the theatre. Now resident of Hollywood, she has been visiting in Carmel as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Solari.

The role of Sergeant Bill Page will be enacted by Lieutenant William Buckley of the Army Language School, at the Presidio of Monterey. He has had a wide and varied experience in the theatre.

Seats for Monday night's opening may be reserved by telephoning the Playhouse, 403-W, where the tickets will be on sale.

Red Cross Hopes To Complete Drive Here In Two Weeks

Response to the canvas of workers for the Carmel Red Cross is such that Mathew Jenkins, chairman of the Carmel drive for the 1948 fund campaign, says he believes the quota will be reached within two weeks.

"The need of funds this year is justified by the amount of work the Red Cross has done throughout the United States in the past year," he said this morning. "Approximately $75,000 was expended during the 45 days emergency program to provide assistance to Navajo and Hopi Indians. The Red Cross provided food and clothing for more than 5,000 persons. This was done as a 'stop-gap' pending congressional action on funds for the Indians.

"Under the rules a major portion of the money collected in any community is spent in the community itself. The Red Cross office in Carmel has been carrying on its relief work in a splendid manner over the years and the funds provided take care of all emergencies in this area."

Workers will call on every house in Carmel and a sticker will be given to every contributor, which should be displayed to avoid a second call. Pebble Beach, Carmel Highlands, Big Sur and the Carmel Valley are responding by mail.

Meeting Called To Help Organize Atomic Week Here

Atomic Energy Information Week on the Monterey Peninsula will start Sunday, March 28 and end Saturday, April 3. During that period Carmel, Monterey and Pacific Grove will hear men of outstanding reputations discuss atomic energy.

Feature meeting of the week will be held in Sunset School Auditorium, Friday evening, April 2, when an atomic expert and a widely known leader in the world government movement will be the speaker.

Plans for the week are the outgrowth of visits to the Peninsula in recent months of Fred Hale, field representative for the United World Federalists, which organization will sponsor this week. Hale talked to many luncheon, church, women's and other groups on the Peninsula, and addressed a public meeting in the Sunset Auditorium. His listeners were deeply impressed with what he had to tell and felt that it should be shared with all the people of the area. Announcement of plans are made by Zenas L. Potter, who agreed, on Mr. Hale's request, to take the leadership in organizing the program on the Peninsula.

Details of the program will be worked out at a meeting of all persons who feel that this is an important undertaking, which will be held in the auditorium of the Walter Colton School in Monterey at 8 p.m. tonight when assignments will be made to handle different phases of the project.

Persons who are unable to attend tonight's organizational meeting, but who are willing to help, are asked to call Zenas Potter at his home: telephone Carmel 692-W.

WEST POINT DINNER

On March 13, at 7:30 p.m. the Monterey Peninsula West Point Society, will hold their Annual Stag Dinner at Fort Ord's Officers Club in observance of West Point Military Academy's Anniversary. Invitation is extended to all men who have ever attended the Academy. The Commanding General of Fort Ord, Major General Jens A. Doe will be the Grand Host.

Fenton Foster

Fenton Foster, 75, died at his home in Salinas Sunday morning after a protracted illness. Private services were held Monday, followed by cremation, and inurnment took place in Salinas. He is survived by his wife and by a daughter, Mrs. Earl Chappell of Pacific Grove.

Mr. Foster was a resident of Carmel for many years before he retired from active life about ten years ago, and he was a great influence among music lovers here. In 1929 he produced The Mikado in the Forest Theatre and for many years conducted community choral groups. He led 175 men and women in presenting The Messiah on several occasions and also gave public performances of The Seven Last Words. The Monterey Lions Club once sponsored a minstrel show that he produced, and Foster's Glee Club was one of the most successful Peninsula activities for over ten years.

The Musical Art Club will hold its next concert on Thursday, March 11, at 8.15 p.m. at the Carmel High School Music Room. The program, which is open to members and their guests, will feature the singing of Carla Petersen, soprano, accompanied by Angie Machado.

Miss Petersen, who had her training in this country, has recently made a singing tour which took her to Denmark, and included many large cities both here and abroad. She appeared at festivals held by a number of Danish schools. She has been particularly commended for her work with Danish folksongs, and American spirituals.

Her program is: Dedication, by Franz; My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair, by Haydin; Have You Seen but a White Lily Grow, by Old English folksong; Bid me to Levi, by Hatton; Selections from Frauenlieb und Leben, by Schumann; Peace, Peace, from Forza del Destino, by Verdi; This Story is Mine, Ware; The Sleep that sits on Baby's Eyes, Carpenter; Wild Geese, De Leath; Lille Karen, Heise; Og Jeg Vil Ha'en Hjerpenkjer and other Danish folksongs.

The Time Has Come . .

By KIPPY STUART

Those of us who have small gardens in front of our houses that need blooming flowers the year around can easily arrange to keep them going permanently. My first experience with this problem was a doleful failure. My crop of annuals would come into bloom; they would die and there was a long wait for young plants to mature and a longer wait for seeds to mature. As in all garden lore, an experienced horticulturist gave me the answer, and I will repeat again, that one learns more from other gardeners than one ever learns from books.

Pot culture is the answer. I now sow seeds directly into pots. When the young plants are ready for the garden, I do one of two things: bury the pot into the ground where I want my garden, or tap the plant from the pot and place in the garden. By this time I have accumulated so many pots that I can afford to bury the pot, but those of you who do not go into gardening in such a big way can tap plants out of pots. In either process the shock of transplanting is avoided for roots are not disturbed. As soon as I set out my garden, I immediately repeat the process by planting new seeds in pots for the future. When the first crop is exhausted, there you are, with an entire new garden to replace the old. I have had for the past few months the most colorful group of Nemesis happily growing in their pots along my garden wall. They do not look like potted plants as the pots are sunk below the ground level. The Nemesis are getting ragged now and I went in search of the new plants to replace the row. You have guessed it. I had forgotten to plant seeds for my new crop. You had best heed that old adage: "Don't do as I do, but do as I say!"

New gardeners, in their enthusiasm, usually plant too many seeds at one time, especially in vegetable gardens. It is better to plant two feet of lettuce and in two weeks plant another two feet of lettuce. (I had best get out of the vegetable garden or Doctor Billie will throw me out on my ear.)

When sowing seeds in flats for future planting, an area two inches wide in the flat is sufficient for one variety. Mark flats off into sections by placing lateral sticks between varieties. When transplanted, two inches of seedlings will fill an entire flat. Be sure and plant annuals of low growth for pot culture. Nemesis, with its galaxy of colors, is my favorite. There are two varieties of Nemesis: Grandi-flora and Nemesis Compacta. Plant the latter, as Suttoni grows spindly and falls on its face. Other seeds that do well in pots are: Annual Phlox, Petunias, Midget Blue Argeratum, Lobelia, Pansies and Virginia Stock. These seeds can also be sown in the open ground, but then you have bunchy, badly spaced plants. In pots, you can regulate spacing and grouping.

Many seeds fail to sprout. Usually, this is because they were planted too deep. Press small seeds into the earth with flat of hand and sprinkle a very little earth or sand over top. Potted seeds must be kept moist at all times. Find a spot in the back yard and sink pots into ground. Leave a depression around pots to hold water. Then you can go away for days and forget all about new seeds. How I wish I had followed my own advice and planted Nemesis seeds two months ago. Now I shall have to wait . . . and wait . . . and wait . . .

Board Holds Out Forlorn Hope For Swimming Pool

On the suggestion of Mrs. Anita Dormody, the school board at a special meeting Friday morning, passed a resolution requesting Kump and Co. to review their plans for the proposed high school swimming pool with the object of reducing costs of construction, "to bring it into our ability to pay."

The action followed the board's vote to reject all bids for the construction of a music room and swimming pool. The lowest bid for the swimming pool was $105,487; for the music room, $92,887. By delaying construction of the music building so that it can be built as a part of the proposed auditorium, expenditure can be reduced $20,000, the architects informed the board at an earlier meeting, when the members protested the excessive cost. Following his motion to reject the bids, Dr. L. A. Williams said, "I can't see the rightness in using that much money out of the bond issue."

ALL SAINTS' RUMMAGE SALE

The Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' will have a rummage sale on May 5 in the Parish House, where articles may be left for the sale.

Wildflower Slides Next On Graves' Nature Series

On Monday evening March 8, C. Edward Graves will give the ninth in his series of ten programs on Appreciation of Nature at the Sunset Auditorium. This will be entirely a wild flower program. The first half will be devoted to the wild flowers and flowering shrubs of the southwestern deserts. There will be a great deal of background scenery so that it will be a desert travelog as well as a wild flower show. The second half will cover the wild flowers of the mountains and lowlands.

These programs are given under the sponsorship of the Carmel Adult School and last from 7:30 to 9:30 with a ten minute intermission.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Phone Carmel 1.

FACTS ABOUT POWER CURTAILMENT

A STATEMENT BY P. G. AND E.

California, particularly in the central and southern areas served by the Company, is faced with a drought of unprecedented proportions. In the Bakersfield area, for example, rainfall this season has been less than 20 per cent of normal. Most of this season's scant precipitation in the watersheds of California came last fall and what remains in the mountains in the form of snow is only about half of what it was in 1931, the driest year of record.

The drought has had the double effect of drastically reducing the amount of water power available and at the same time creating a large and completely unprecedented irrigation pumping demand. It is estimated that this pumping demand exceeds normal by at least 250,000 horsepower. This is equivalent to the combined power demand of the cities of Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno, Merced, San Jose and Berkeley.

Power Saved Is Water Saved

In order to conserve water, we ran our steam electric generating plants at full capacity all last year. By doing this we were able to effect a carry-over of about 50 per cent of our storage capacity—well over the normal carry-over. Unseasonable pumping demands have made heavy inroads on that storage, and power curtailment has become necessary to prevent further depletion of stored water.

The City of San Francisco and other electric producing agencies face similarly severe drought problems. The City of San Francisco already has found it necessary to reduce its power output to conserve water.

War Delays Expansion

This winter's drought occurs at a time when the Company's power reserves are at a minimum. Wartime restrictions on construction, shortages of materials and the prolonged post-war strikes greatly delayed the delivery of new generating equipment.

When the war started, the Company had on order two large steam electric generators which were to commence operation in 1944. Work on these generators was stopped in 1941 for the duration of the war by order of the War Production Board. Promptly after wartime restrictions were ended the Company restored the orders for these war-delayed generators and followed this with orders for a number of additional hydro and steam electric plants.

New Generating Plants Due

We have just received the first steam electric generator reordered in 1945. This new 100,000-horsepower unit is now being installed in our Kern plant near Bakersfield. We expect to place it in operation in April. We will also add 125,000 horsepower in the new Electra and West Point plants on the Mokelumne River this year, and 300,000 additional horsepower at Station "P" in San Francisco. In all, 525,000 horsepower of new generating capacity will be installed in the next twelve months on the P. G. and E. System.

Delay experienced by the Bureau of Reclamation in installing the first two additional generators at Shasta Dam has further aggravated the situation. These units of 100,000 horsepower each were installed during the war at Grand Coulee Dam. In early 1946 they were moved to Shasta Dam. They were scheduled to commence operation in the summer of 1947 before any other new plants could be constructed in the area in the postwar period. This schedule was not met. The first of these generators is only now about ready for operation and the second is expected to be ready in three months.

Construction Program

The Company has had underway for over two years a huge construction program to bring 1,400,000 horsepower of new generating capacity to the area. We are doing everything possible to speed that program. In 1945, the last war year, we spent $22,526,000 on new construction. In 1946 we spent $45,000,000. In 1947 we spent over $100,000,000. At the present time our construction expenditures exceed 10 million dollars a month.

During the next 12 months alone our construction plus the additions at Shasta will aggregate more than 725,000 new horsepower.

Hope for Rain Diminishes

The power situation will remain critical until these additions are completed unless relief comes through a protracted period of heavy rainfall in the valleys and a deep snowpack in the mountains. Hope for such relief diminishes each day. The drought emergency and the public interest require the fullest cooperation with the power curtailment orders of the California Public Utilities Commission. Moderate curtailment now may well forestall more drastic curtailment later.

Power producing agencies are cooperating in a regional power pool to make the most of available resources. The public can be assured that we have done and will continue to do everything possible to meet the emergency and to keep curtailment at a minimum. The Company is appreciative of the cooperation it is receiving from the public.

Have You Read . . . ?

BY G. W. STUART

Human Destiny by Pierre Lecomte du Nouy.
Longmans Green, $3.50.

I like an author who starts right off with, "The purpose of this book is to examine critically the scientific capital accumulated by man, and to derive therefrom logical and rational consequences."

Now that gives us something to watch for. All through Human Destiny we find logical and rational consequences that "replace the amazement of ignorance by the sureness of knowledge".

There are "two paths to the Comprehension of Man". The first, revelation, is the direct and easy way, which is the gift of a chosen few, much to the disgust and envy of all school children. The second is the hard way, the strictly rational and scientific processes of the human brain, thinking. Any sophomore will testify that forced thinking is not only hard work but "cruel and unusual punishment".

Dr. du Nouy, using his special genius, chooses the hard way and presents the subject matter of Human Destiny in three parts. The first is The Methods which the author proposes to use in achieving his purpose and is largely devoted to a demonstration of the Laws of Chance.

Dr. du Nouy tells us that it is the province of science to predict and although this chapter on The Methods confirms our belief in the scientific genius of the good doctor, it is doubtful that with all his prestige he could have predicted that in 1923 an American, Mary Bishop Harriman, would marry him in Paris and that thereafter they would escape from the Nazis, become residents of California, and have this review published in The Carmel Pine Cone.

You see there are certain complexities in the phenomena of life that drive the best of scientists into a corner and, force them to admit that the laws of chance alone are not enough, "not almighty".

The consequences of a rational and scientific examination of the scientific capital accumulated by man "lead inevitably to the idea of God", no matter by what other name one may choose to call Him.

While this chapter gives some very interesting data on the game of dice, the PTA need not worry that it may encourage anyone to shoot "craps". On the contrary it shows very convincingly, that if one is well supplied with the virtue of persistence and lives long enough he may come out even. He cannot win.

Most children and many grownups are frightened and terrified by unanswerable questions such as, How far is it to the farthest point straight up into the sky? What is there, and if there is anything there why isn't there something still farther? Who am I? What am I? Why was I put on this earth anyway, and what am I supposed to do while here?

Dr. du Nouy does not completely answer these questions but he does a good job in making them more easily bearable.

He speaks with authority when he puts down exactly how old the earth is — how many molecules there are in the universe. It is comforting to learn that we are not descended from monkeys even though this comfort is short lived when he states with equal authority that life probably started as a marine worm.

The important thing is the mathematical certainty that Chance alone is not enough to account for the phenomena of the origin of life.

The only alternative is that back of everything there must be a purposive something, somebody, whom the religious call God and worship. What does it matter that the rebellious call Him Anti-chance?

In these days of depressing and terrifying social unrest it is heartening to read the optimistic forecast of a genius of Science who foresees an

SPRING!

*Imperturbable Spring comes surging up from under the ground, Breaking out here and there with a few bright green words,
With a few white plum-flowers exploding from the surprised branches.*

*The nations run to ruin and the rampage of green goes on—
The people of earth tread round in their self-milling cages . . .*

*But Spring! the deathless! the lovely!
Spring sparkles up from the inexhaustible sources
Spitting her rainbow drops in our eyes
Spurting the green flames before our feet—
Imperturbable Spring!
Laughing at our unawareness
Flagging our eyes with wild-flowers
Tripping our thoughts with song!*

DEEP ARE THE ROOTS

*Deep are the roots of those who dwell
Above the "white sands of Carmel."
Staunch as the cliff-grown cypress trees
That weather the winds of western seas.
Strong as the struggle of love and hate—
Earth's striving made articulate! . . .
For you, this vast infinitude
Of sea and sky, through a cypress wood!
Yours is the visioning, the surprise
That shone in Father Serra's eyes . . .
Calm as the wave in sundown light—
Certain that sunrise will follow the night.
True as the homing of swallow wings
To a blue, blue bay where the cypress sings!
Deep are the roots of those who dwell
Above the bright sands of Carmel.*

SCHOOL BUS

*They seemed, just beyond my car,
The cluster of fair young heads,
To be windowed in a star
Rolling on airier treads;*

*With a prim, precisional shine,
Plaited and softly curled,
That grouped to the axial line
Of another, sunnier world;*

*And humming along the road,
I thought I could hear the hymn
Of a little golden load
Of passing cherubim.*

Days Before Yesterday

BY GLENN CLAIRMONTE

In the Pine Cone for February 20, 1931, a front page article warned that the First Annual Carmel Kite Festival would take place the following day.

"Carmel residents will be suffering from stiff necks tomorrow. No! Not a new skyscraper, but Carmel's kite festival for boys and girls to be staged Saturday afternoon. The youngsters will meet at 1:30 o'clock at Sunset School and march in a body to Hatton Fields.

"Mayor Herbert Heron and members of the city council will lead the parade. Winners of the various kite flying contests will be awarded prizes by Mayor Heron.

"Many of the youngsters will probably be accompanied by their fathers. But according to the Rev. Willis White, who is instrumental in staging the festival, the fathers will not be allowed in the manipulation of the kites.

"The following are the committeemen and the judges of the tournament: Committee on Parade, Eugene A. H. Watson, Stanley Wood, and Miss Marie Baer. On literature, Miss Berry, Mrs. Eskil, Mrs. Phillips and Haskell Warren. Technical Advisors, Mr. Calley, Stuart O'Brien, F. O. Robbins. Place of flying, L. S. Slevin, Mr. Fields, Robert Parrott, Cortland Arne. Judges: John C. Catlin, Frederick Paxon Howard, Ray C. DeYoe, Fredrik Rummelle, George Seideneck, Rev. Austin B. Chinn, Miss Ruth Huntington, Miss Hazel Watrous, Mrs. Daniel Willard. August, Englund is Grand Marshal, with Louis H. Levinson, Assistant Marshal. Mayor Herbert Heron and members of the City Council and the School Trustees will head the procession."

The following week the Pine Cone reported on the accomplished event:

"Carmel's first kite festival was a huge success. Despite a few stiff necks and a few disappointed hearts when the judges ruled several kites out, practically everyone who made up the large gathering went home enthused over the tournament.

"So tremendous was the interest of the youngsters and prominent Carmel citizens who supported the contest, that another similar event will probably be held in the future . . .

"The youngsters, many with their parents, met in the afternoon at the Sunset School and then paraded up to Hatton Fields with Marshal Gus Englund and Mayor Herbert Heron at the head of the procession.

"On arrival at Hatton Fields, the kites were spread on the ground and the judges carefully examined each one. Several kites were ruled out because too much work had been done by the father and very little by the child. Then the kites were sent up.

"Some fell quickly to the ground. Others climbed higher and higher. Several of them reached such heights that only a tiny spot in the sky showed their location.

"Teddy Marble won first prize for the highest flying kite. A kite made by Harry Turner, Billy Turner and Joe DeAmaral won second prize. The boys who tied for third prize were Don Staniford, Herschal Haines and Denny Cooper.

"Charlotte and Jean May won first prize for the most attractive kite. Barry Flanders took second prize and Dick Tevis came in third.

"First prize for the most unusual kite was taken by Jerry Neikirk while the second award went to Barry Flanders.

"The judges had considerable difficulty in the selection of the best kite. Kevin Wallace's kite, however, was finally chosen as the winner. Arlene Plein was given second prize."

In 1932 the kite festival really became an annual when it drew 3000 spectators and 250 participants. The Pine Cone of February 26, that year, remarked:

"This year's tournament was the most successful event of its kind ever held here. The sky in Hatton Fields presented a picturesque scene with

Wainwright Art

The Victorian Room of the Pine Inn presents a show of oils and pastels by Sam Wainwright. There is interesting portrait work in the delineation of a young girl, a study of Edwin Markham, pastel dog portrayals. The artist seems particularly at ease with his nature studies, lighting his canvases of seascapes, desert scapes, land scapes, with understanding and sympathy.

Mr. Wainwright began his artistic work in Japan, where his father was a missionary; he has painted Bermuda and now concentrates on portraiture and on set designing.

Piano Recital

Sunday afternoon, February 29, several young piano students from Angie Celia Machado's class presented an hour of piano music to an invited audience of some fifty people. The beautiful L shaped Denny-Watrous studio, on Dolores street, with its two fine pianos, served as inspiration to the young pianists, and gave the occasion an atmosphere of informality and congeniality.

Several such musical gatherings are planned for the next four months and the group offering the programs will vary each time. Those who played on Sunday were: Tess and Jane Luongo, Joy and Patricia Westcott, Cynthia Carr, Fleana Giglio, Bruce Krammer, Alice Ferrante, Patricia Kelly, Jean Winn, Laurel and Donald Martin, Donna Rae Bisnett, Suzanne Montmorency, and Mike Elliott.

Bishop Entertained

Mrs. Russell H. Hoadly entertained at her apartment in the Sun Dial Courts Tuesday afternoon for Bishop Winford Ziegler and his wife. Mrs. Hoadly has been in Carmel the last seven months, before which she had lived in Europe, interesting herself in the French and American Red Cross. Bishop Ziegler is the Bishop of Wyoming.

Wayfarer Auxiliary

The Bible is really a whole library, not just one book, Dr. Edward O. Sisson told the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer at the meeting on Tuesday afternoon. Speaking particularly about The Short Bible, prepared by Smith and Goodspeed, the speaker discussed the various sources for the English translations over the centuries. This most recent one—The Short Bible—Dr. Sisson considers to be too much expurgated, and really denatured.

Mrs. Charles N. Pearson, secretary, conducted the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Carmalita Benson, and Miss Agnes Williston gave the devotions preceding the business meeting. Mrs. Ada McGee announced the meeting to make leper bandages next Tuesday, March 9, at ten in the morning, and Mrs. Grace Howden announced the meetings to sew on garments for European children on the second and fourth Thursdays at two in the afternoon. Mrs. Blanchard Steeves reported that the World Friendship Circle has received the full $60 for support of a school girl in China for this conference year. She also told of her pleasure in taking over supervision of the Biblical garden from Mrs. G. F. Beardsley, and her study of the trees and flowers in the garden. Mrs. Pearson announced the Wayfarer Circle meeting for two o'clock, March 16, and the next Auxiliary meeting, April 6, beginning with a box lunch at 12:30, with Dr. Olive Swezy preparing the tea and coffee.

Before Dr. Sisson's talk, which concluded the meeting, Mrs. John Pasmore, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Annie Vaughan, sang a number by Brahms, and There is a Green Hill Far Away, by Gounod. Mrs. Louise Grigsby introduced Dr. Sisson.

Coming to town! Coming to town! The VILLAGE LAMP-LIGHTERS to be housed in the old location of the Carmel Book-sellers on Mission and Fifth. Clever fingers and fashionable lamp sense will design shades for you and re-cover your old frames, choosing shape and color from a great assortment of materials and ideas, all slightly slanted to the Victorian and Early American. A specialty of this shop is to take a porcelain base, electrify it three ways and clothe it in special petticoat lampshades. From now on, dull shades won't ruin your humor, for the VILLAGE LAMP-LIGHTERS are coming to town!

MILDRED'S CAFE on Pearl Street in Monterey features Mexican effects in decor with an adobe wall along the dining room behind which is the pit where bears and bulls used to fight in old Monterey days. At this interesting cafe one finds the best coffee in town, for it is one of Mildred's specialties, and a hot lunch for 60c served every day from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., and menu changed every day with something delicious. And the luncheons include the whole works! Try the good coffee, the special lunch, and all the atmosphere of Old Monterey at MILDRED'S CAFE.

Try an arrangement of white Japanese plum blossoms in a silver bowl, or pale pink blossoms arranged in a bronze container, or visualize pots of tulips, red, or dazzling white, or flame cupped. Concentrate on the color variations of carnations in shades of pink, rose, red, or yellow combinations in jonquils, daffodils, the hearts of China lilies. Let the FLOR DE MONTEREY on Franklin street stimulate your imagination and your color sense so that your Easter flower arrangements become an entrancing spring hobby.

Saturday is the last day of the auction going on at the MONTEREY JEWELERS on Alvarado. This is an all out auction where former prices mean nothing, and the bargains are incomparable. Every day two diamonds are given away, and during the afternoon and evening sale other prizes are constantly being won. From the crowds in the shop you know that everyone is having a lot of fun as well as bargaining for some really beautiful pieces of jewelry and costume ware. This is a final opportunity for everyone to find a real treasure with little effort and practically no cost. 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., and 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. are the hours, so go to the MONTEREY JEWELERS and have a good time for yourself.

Does the whiff of a plum blossom, the sight of a Japanese print provoke you to a faint nostalgia for the Orient, whether you have been there or not? Go slake that mood at the PINE DEW SUKIYAKI restaurant on Cass street with delicious Japanese food of sukiyaki, tempura, and other wonderful dishes. Luncheon is simply priced at 65c and served from 11:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., tea with rice cakes is served from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and dinner is from 5:30 p.m. until 11:00 p.m., and starts at the again simple price of $1.60. Wednesday night the PINE DEW SUKIYAKI is closed.

For true Carmel atmosphere and relaxed dining before a blazing fire, you may saunter into the BLUEBIRD RESTAURANT on Ocean and any night of the week including Sundays and holidays be served a superbly delicious roast beef au jus dinner — the whole complete work—for $1.50. Hours are from 5:00 to 8:30 p.m. and your connoisseur instincts will appreciate the select beef that is used. You will rise from the table satisfied with a good dinner and satisfied with the fine necessities of good dining.

Rustle and whisper as you swish about in the most enchanting petticoats of the year at the SILVER THIMBLE on Dolores. The petticoats are black or blue and bordered with an enormous width of ruffle, sporting itself in checked metallic taffeta. There is something irresistible in the vague visibility of a petticoat, and if half an inch of ruffle should show, the colors and metallic glitter will harmonize with anything you wear. No ballerina dress should be without its petticoat, to stiffen it out and give it the unmistakable mark of high style. Let the petticoats at the SILVER THIMBLE groom your new spring gowns.

The doors are open to a breathlessly fresh, just done over, BY THE SEA SHOP, where on a long range of new racks you will find an incredible assortment of Easter cards for everyone you have ever met, loved, or been related to. Along with all the new space and improvements, the BY THE SEA SHOP has added a new line of office supplies. You will find portable Underwood typewriters, brief cases, and all kinds of things for your office needs. And remember that Easter comes on March 28, and you will want to get all those cards off right away.

High fashion is implicit in the name of Cole of California, and smart Cole bathing suits, and cottons are being carried at PUTNAM AND RAGGETT. New look one piece, two piece bathing suits of nylon lastex come in colors of white, black, and dashing tomato red; the suits are fitted to show off Venus perfection. Cole cottons are shown in different color combinations of two piece sun dresses with bathing suits to match. The chic combination of pink, beige, and brown is found in wide stripes in the skirt, in bands in the bodice, and rainbow merged in the bathing suit. PUTNAM AND RAGGETT will smarten your summer with Cole of California clothes.

The building going up next to SU VECINO delicatessen will soon be finished and you will enjoy food served in a patio environment. And to its long list of Mexican foods to take home, like chiles, rice, tamales, cheeses, frijoles, SU VECINO has added mixed relishes, pickled onions, and Spanish olives. So plan on wonderful dinners straight from the delicatessen counters, and plan on the delicious food that will soon be served you in the little building that is going up in a great big hurry.

Colored candy frivolities are all very fine for Easter, but it is still good to remember the fresh poultry at MAC'S POULTRY SHOP, and the specials on roasters, fryers, and fricassee hens. And though you may momentarily adore a pink egg trifle, the sturdy dependability of fresh ranch eggs will be your long range wish. So, in the midst of your frosted holiday purchasing, don't forget the necessities of fresh poultry and real eggs at MAC'S POULTRY SHOP.

Put your best foot forward in a Summerettes Ball Band elasticized knitted braid shoe found at BALZER'S CARMEL DEPARTMENT STORE exclusive agents for these play time shoes. Color leads fun and fashion and you might flash a flame red, or royal blue, or gay green against your tan, or take the lead in summer shenanigans in all white. And the shoe has a buoyant platform sole of cork and rubber which will give good barefoot comfort. The fiesta colors of these shoes will make your cottons fascinating and give you a semi barefooted goddess look. Step into BALZER'S DEPARTMENT STORE and step out all unheeled and shod for summer.

Exclusive agent for Wilson's Clod candy is EL FUMADOR shop on Dolores, where boxes of this all favorite candy are kept in constant demand and supply on EL FUMADOR shelves. Due to an amusing mistake in its early history, the candy emerged resembling nothing so much as a simple clod; it was so delicious, investigations were made to find the error and keep it. Thus, Wilson's Clod candy.

Significant jewel addenda for March are the bloodstone and its alternate, the aquamarine, both being seasonally shown at WHEATON'S JEWELERS in Monterey. The fabulous bloodstone, whose red spots signify the blood of Christ, according to tradition has power to turn the sun blood red, to cause lightning, rain and thunder, to preserve bodily health and guard the wearer from deception, has power to check hemorrhages and if formed with a bat, gives the wearer power over demons. The aquamarine has only slightly less powerful therapeutic effects. WHEATON'S shows rings for men or women in these stones, among them an exquisite aquamarine of oval set in twisted gold, and a heavy man's ring flecked with the true red of the bloodstone.

Colorful as confetti and quite as abundant are the Easter eggs large and small, chocolate and marshmallow at the CARMEL DELICATESSEN on Ocean. Place your orders early for Easter baskets woven in many sizes and colors, filled with your choice of eggs. There are king eggs crystal covered in the brightest pinks, purples, greens, you can imagine, chocolate eggs and bunnies decorated with flowers and yellow chicks, brilliant nonpareil eggs giving the effect of tiny pastel seeds, large chocolate fudge eggs, and some consisting of one half marshmallow and the other in colored gum drops. Get your orders for baskets in early so that you will have your exact choice of these bright delicious eggs.

Dazzling are the large round and square candles at the CARMEL ART SHOP; shocking pink, hyacinth, pomegranate, fuchsia, lemon yellow, chartreuse, flamingo red, crimson, the splendid colors are as rarified as spring. And there are copper bowls for (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Paul Speegle To Speak

Paul Speegle, radio columnist of the San Francisco Chronicle, will be presented to the people of the Monterey Peninsula on Wednesday evening, March 17, at Sunset auditorium, in an open meeting of the American Association of University Women. He will talk on some phases of radio influence on American life.

Bixlers Settled

After months of planning and work, Postmaster Ernest Bixler has completed his house in Hatton Fields on Mesa and Atherton Drive, and he and Mrs. Bixler moved in Sunday.

Scout School

To train boys in Scout skills Col. Thomas E. May and Bill Ellis are attending Carmel Boy Scout Leaders at the Monterey Peninsula University of Scouting which opened Thursday, at the Del Monte School in East Monterey.

the brightly colored kites flying in all directions. . . .

"One of the most unique kites ever flown here was the one made by Ernestine Renzel, local real estate agent. It was the smallest of those flown, being not more than two inches in size with a postage stamp for a tail. Yet it went up as well as its bigger brothers. . . . Miss Renzel won a prize for the smallest kite.

"Because of the fact that the wind died down early in the afternoon, it was impossible to compete for the high flying honors. The contest will be held tomorrow afternoon in the same place with prizes to be awarded for the kite that flies the highest and the one that flies the furthest."

And finally it was decided, as reported one week later, that the winners were: George Crossman of the younger grades, Warren Jimenez of the upper grades, and Elpidio Regno in the adult class. "Several kites that gave every promise of establishing records were too heavy to go up." Ah youth, and oh ambition!

Manila Notes

Word has been received from Dick Norris, working his way about on the President Polk. He is now in Manila and expects to be soon in Naples, Italy. Mr. Norris says that the ravages of war are still very evident in Manila and there is little buying to be done for his shop, Vagabond's Corner.

They're Residents Now

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Silva are finally residents of Carmel. They arrived January 14 but have been having so much work done on their North Carmelo home, the old William Silva place, that they aren't completely settled yet. Several weeks ago the Silvas drove to Oakland to pick up Mrs. Mary Heyward, Mrs. Silva's mother, and her niece Mrs. George Jackson of Oberlin, Ohio. Mrs. Heyward will make her home with the Silvas. Mrs. Jackson will stay another week, then visit her nieces in Los Angeles before returning East.

Spending a few days at the Carmel Valley Inn were well known names in the movie and theatre world: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan of Hollywood, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kennedy. Mr. Kennedy has just completed a starring role in the Drama Critic's Circle Award Play: All My Sons.

Burr In Ballet Theatre

A general exodus has been planned for tonight when a throng of Carmel citizens drives to San Jose to see Mary Burr dance with the Ballet Theatre. Miss Burr's press notices have at times equalled those of ballerina Nora Kaye, and everyone is pleased with the tremendous success of this beautiful dancing Carmel daughter. Among those driving up to the San Jose Auditorium will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Geisen, with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, who will meet the Albert Henleys for cocktails before the ballet.

Girl For Blairs

Margaret Nourse Blair is the name of the baby girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Blair III on February 28, at the Peninsula Community Hospital. Margaret will make her home on Mission and 13 street in Carmel.

Now He Is Five

When Robert Vernon Little attained his fifth year last Monday he invited some of his Sunset School kindergarten friends to help him celebrate with neapolitan ice cream and cake to match, at his Carmel Woods home. Although the decorations were in the St. Patrick's Day tradition, the guests provided themselves with special Indian activities and everybody present was shot dead at least two or three times with nice and noisy cap pistols. Two-year-old brother Matthew helped to greet the following friends: Christine and Michael Montgomery, Kate Dunning, Shirley Flint, Diane and Ricky Miller, Mary McKinsie, Leslie Champe, Charles Hawley, Allen Mitchell, Dio Roberts, Christopher Dyer, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. J. F. Montgomery, Mrs. Jim Flint, and Mrs. John Hudelson.

To carry out the flower and candle arrangement are glazed pottery bowls by Virginia and Barbara Blair, one pale blue with mottled effect, and smaller bowls for different effects by Margaret Lang. See the CARMEL ART SHOP for brilliant candles and decorative bowls.

This is really a busy week end. If you don't get into the CARMEL HARDWARE, we will know that you are busy on the Red Cross Drive or getting your kite ready for the Carmel Kite Festival on Saturday. See you at the Kite Festival on Saturday, at the CARMEL HARDWARE next week!

California designers are making history, and big fashion news are the Koret of California sport frocks at GAIL COUPE'S shop on San Carlos, Carmel. One of the smartest of the collection is a stonecutter seersucker striped brown and white with covered buttons, pointed collar and fitted jacket ending in points. Another seersucker has tremendous fashion value in a full skirt, white buttons and white pique touches. Completing the trio is a jersey crepe in large bands of grey and white, with gathered skirt and smart black bow at the pointed collar. Let your voguish vision lead you to GAIL COUPE'S on San Carlos, phone 666-W.

Guests and friends of Miss E. M. HEATH are invited to her open-studio on Lincoln near thirteenth. Miss Heath will have her studio open every Sunday afternoon during March from the hours of 1:00 till around 5:00; her paintings, mostly oil marines and landscapes, will be displayed so that her friends, other artists, and the public will be enabled to see them. Spend a pleasant Sunday afternoon studio visiting with Miss E. M. HEATH.

Fashion Show

Summer was definitely apparent in the clothes and bathing suits presented by Maxine's Dress Shop and shown at the Pine Inn Wednesday afternoon in the regular fashion show series. Only California designers were shown and New York had better watch out for California is stepping high and handsome in the fashion world. New model Deborah Gearing, leaving her school classes to model, showed what is new in bathing suits. She wore an interesting two piece cotton, an aqua one piece swim suit, and a stunning shirred silver suit, good for cocktails around the pool. Another new model, Mrs. Stanley Bergman, wore a wonderful noncrushable yellow linen, and a perfect summer dress of tailored white dove-skin with a wrap around skirt. Two very smart coats were a geranium red flared coat over a pure silk print of lovely rose-red colors, and a perfect Carmel type shag coat in white worn by Mrs. Richard Taylor. Mrs. Taylor's beautiful modeling was seen to advantage in an amusing pink linen suit with a deep cuff around the jacket and buttoned up in back with five white buttons.

Next week there will be a combined fashion show by Lanz and the Silver Thimble.

Organ Vespers

The Wednesday afternoon organ vespers given from 5:15 p.m. until 6:00 p.m. at the Church of the Wayfarer will be played by Staff Sgt. Harvey L. Freeman of Fort Ord. The public is invited.

Dehydrating In Carmel

Seattle people here dehydrating from Northern rains have been Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Harper, Mrs. J. T. Dowling, and Mrs. Martin McClean. Mr. and Mrs. Harper went to Death Valley to finish the job.

Miss Griffin's Houseguest

Miss Edith Griffin, who now lives on Lincoln and Eighth, is enjoying a month's visit from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles S. Griffin, who lives in Croton-On-Hudson in New York. Mrs. Griffin used to live in Japan and many of the friends she made there are now living here, and plan to entertain her at several re-union teas.

Sanity In Art?

Mr. and Mrs. James Abbe and their daughter Patience were visiting in Carmel over the week end. Mr. Abbe conducts a daily broadcast over KGO in San Francisco, five mornings a week, and was heard to state Monday morning that it was strange to return to the city after being surrounded by sanity in Carmel.

Los Angeles Study Trip

Dr. F. H. Sparks is leaving Saturday night for about four days for postgraduate study on the new developments in arthritis problems at the Los Angeles General Hospital.

Artist Protection

Paul Mays, Carmel Art Gallery member, has returned from Hollywood where he has been conferring with sponsors of the new Episcopal church, St. Stephens, and where he has planned to do an altar piece for the church. In the meantime, Mr. Mays has put away his brushes to help campaign for artists' rights by long distance conferring with the National Society of Mural Painters of which he is an old member. The Society intends to see that long suffering artists who send sketches and designs away, who pay for the freight, have the expense of the materials, and the general mental worry, get paid for their trouble. It is definitely a move to protect the artist from the nuisance and expense that his shows entail, and Mr. Mays is an ardent advocate of this protection.

PEBBLE BEACH FIRE

The Fire Suppression Crew of the Division of Forestry was called to Pebble Beach last Saturday at 7:30 p.m. when smoke was found to be seeping through the walls of the home of Captain Leonard Kirby. Jack Buttle, and his assistants found difficulty in locating the cause of the fire which destroyed the floor joists beneath the fireplace until it was discovered that faulty construction had made it unsafe to keep a constant fire in the chimney. In removing part of the fireplace the firemen were careful not to sacrifice the imported mantelpiece and it was estimated that the damage amounted only to $100.

Sport Notes

Bud Todd, Mel Ray, Allene Knight, By Pryor, Warry Mastin, and Buzz Knight.

Highlights of the day's play saw some nifty hitting by Lew Saunders, George Younkin, Mel Ray, and Bob Bell. Fancy fielding efforts were turned in by Jack Whitesides, Mel Ray, Ursula Bartlett, and Jim Harget. Comedy stunt of the afternoon was provided when Dorothy Black tagged Lew Saunders who was sliding into first base. Dorothy tagged the sliding Lew with such authority that she ignited a package of matches and caused Lew really to come a-smokin into the bag. Emergency service by attending volunteer firemen soon extinguished the blaze and restored order to the game.

Next Sunday finds Tigers and Shamrocks meeting at 1:30 and the Giants and Pilots squaring off at 2:30. There is still time to sign up and play in the rest of the games. Just report to the high school field Sunday afternoon and sign up with Mike Balazs.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Man" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, March 7, with the Golden Text taken from Psalms: "Mark the perfect man, and behold him upright: for the end of that man is peace" (37:37).

The following citations are included in the sermon:

John: "Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things" (8:28).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We must reverse our feeble flutterings — our efforts to find life and truth in matter — and rise above the testimony of the material senses, above the mortal to the immortal idea of God. These clearer, higher views inspire the Godlike man to reach the absolute centre and circumference of his being" (p. 262).

Col. G. Stuart

Services will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at the T. A. Dorney Funeral Home in Monterey for Colonel George W. Stuart, who died of a heart attack at his home in Hatton Fields Tuesday afternoon.

Colonel Stuart came to Carmel with Mrs. Stuart a few months after his retirement from the army in 1939, established his home here and fitted comfortably and happily into the community life, his gentleness, quiet humor and generous philosophy winning for him the respect and affection of the youngsters as well as the adults with whom he came in contact.

He was born in Chariton, Iowa, in 1874 and received his appointment to West Point while attending the University of Minnesota. Graduating from West Point in 1899, he embarked on a military career that carried him from Alaska to Mindanao. At the latter station in 1909, he married Florence Partello, daughter of Colonel J. M. T. Partello, and sister of Col. J. I. Partello, who also makes his home in Carmel.

Col. Stuart was commander of the 9th Infantry Regiment and chief of staff of the 37th Infantry Division during the First World War. His distinguished service won him the Croix de Guerre with five palms from the French Government, and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium decorated him personally with the Belgian War Cross.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two nephews, George Corwin and William C. Stuart, who flew from Chariton, Iowa, to attend the services.

W. H. Greenfield

William H. Greenfield, 52, died March 1 of a heart attack at the Oppenheimer Ranch at Carmel Valley, where he had been employed for the past year. He was a native of Oakland and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Greenfield and a stepson, Harold Williams, both of Carmel Valley, and by a son, William H. Greenfield, Jr., of Reno, Nevada. Services were held yesterday in Chapel of the Chimes at Oakland preceding inurnment. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.

build for a view and now have lost it."

Donald Craig, council member who also serves on the planning commission, added, "An overall study of the tree problem which will show what trees should be removed and where trees should be replaced is certainly necessary, but nothing is going forward that will hamper the council, or interfere with its authority over trees."

It will be noticed that the discussion to date is centered around out-of-hand cypress and the planting of new pine trees. The possibility of removing healthy, fully established pine trees to improve an ocean view for some one citizen has not been considered. However, the council has maintained a policy of refusing all such petitions, and it is to be hoped that the opening of the discussion will not result in a flood of such requests. The granting of one would establish a precedent that might well result in denuding the town.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Where Does Your Money Go?

Read the other day where country folks and farmers spend more money, proportionately, on their homes than city dwellers do.

Doesn't seem hard to believe when you think it over. Take the folks in our town, for instance: They're home-loving people—who'd rather spend an evening by the fire with a mellow glass of beer than go out in search of entertainment or diversion.

So it's only natural they put more into what means most to them and to their children: their homes. They may not have too much to spend—but it goes for those permanent, abiding comforts that make home a nicer place to be.

And from where I sit, that budget calls for some of the niceties of home life too—like cider and popcorn for the kids from time to time, and a friendly glass of beer for Mom and Dad... things that belong with what we mean when we say "Home."
